

Knowledge Transfer Research Opportunities Archive

2023

Digital transformation project to digitise processes to scale up care services

Feasibility study to understand how African food (not indigenous to the UK) can be grown in a UK climate to inform the further development of a zero food miles project

2021

Digitisation of traditional drawings to create a digital library of parts and assemblies with ability for parametric modelling

Strategic cultural and transformative change of the business management capabilities that will improve operational agility, core market performance, and enable the exploitation of strategic supply chain and market expansion opportunities

Blockchain enabled IQ game / content creation

Energy industry market analysis to productise current service offering

2019

To create a common geospatial built environment (CGBE) which enables the input and verification of crowd-sourced data

Research into the reduction of climate change gas emissions due to fume cupboard testing using computational fluid dynamics